At first Mr. Schneider refused to believe that his son-in-law was the real instigator of the crime, but when the two were brought together, in company with a number of detectives, Mr. Schneider was convinced. Forney denied, however, he had struck his father-in-law with the hammer, blaming this part of the crime on the man whom he had brought from Washington.

GERMANS PUBLISH APPEAL FOR PEACE

OPPOSE ANNEXATION AND CONQUEST IDEA

Demand That Government Announce Readiness to Enter Into Negotiations.

BERLIN, June 26, via London.-The board of directors or managing committee of the social democratic party in Germany has caused to be published in the Vorwaerts a full-page appeal

This interesting document calls for peace, under certain circumstances which will make possible friendships with neighboring nations, and it sets forth most clearly the opposition of the party to territorial conquest and

Saw the War Coming.

The appeal is published under the neading, "Social Democracy and Peace." It begins with a reference to the fact that the socialists foresaw the coming of the war. They worked vainly for an international understanding, but when war did come they placed themselves at the disposal of the fatherland. It then refers to the declaration of the party made in the reichstag August 4, 1914, which said:

"We demand, as soon as safety has been secured and our opponents are inclined to peace, that the war be brought toy an end through a peace which will make possible friendships with neighboring nations."

Opposed to Conquest.

The appeal closes with these words: "The managing committee (vorstand of the social democratic party always has been opposed to a policy of conquest and annexation. We now raise quest and annexation. We now raise anew our sharpest protest against every effort and every proclamation the purpose of which is the annexation of foreign territory and the oppression of other nations, efforts and proclamations which have become public in Germany particularly through the demands of great economic associations as well as through the speeches of leading non-socialist politicians.

"Even the recital of such efforts serves further to postpone that peace which is warmly desired by the whole nation. The people want peace!

One Must Make Advance.

"If this war, which daily demands new sacrifices, is not to draw itself out needlessly, to endure until the full exhaustion of all the nations in it, one of the participating powers must offer the hand of peace. LONDON, June 26.-With 1 breathless expectancy the next move on the European chessboard is awaited. It is conceded that this move is Germany's, and that it may be made against either Warsaw, Paris or Calais.

The Petrograd correspondent of the Daily Mail, commenting on the fact that the Russian army has remained intact during seven weeks' retreat in Galicia, says this army has inflicted tremendous losses on the enemy, having captured in the course of these operations 130,000 men, nearly 300 machine guns and 60 cannon.

The left bank of the River Dniester has been entirely cleared of the Teutonic troops, who forced their way across at two points early this week, according to the latest Russian official statements, but the Austro-German forces are making desperate efforts to effect a passage else-

Many persons believe, however, that no great offensive movement will be attempted along the western front until another effort has been made to reach Warsaw.

Heavy Guns Sent East. A central News dispatch from Amsterdam says several trains loaded with heavy guns have left Essen for the German front on the Bzura river in Poland, where it is believed they will be used in an advance against Warsaw. Since the fall of Lemberg military experts in London have expressed the belief that the Austro-German allies would not be content with forcing the Russians beyond the borders of Galicia, but would attempt to continue their terrific drive and capture Warsaw, the capital of Poland. On previous occasions the Germans have hammered their way to a point almost within artillery range of Warsaw, but have been driven back by the forces under the direction of Grand Duke Nicholas. Success Due to Artillery.

The success of the Teutonic allies in the Galician campaign was due largely to a preponderance of artillery and the expenditure of an overwhelming number of shells. If additional heavy guns have been sent from Essen, where the famous Krupp works are located, it would seem to indicate an intention to continue in Poland operations of a simar nature.

"That the Russian flanks are firm is proved by their successes on the Dniester and Tanew rivers," says the Dniester and Tanew rivers," says the Daily Mail's correspondent. "The military organ, the Russky Invalide, suggests that the only thing that now matters is to keep the enemy occupied while Russia's allies in the west are getting up strength. It is generally conceded that the Russians will evacuate more territory, if it is necessary, in order to find favorable position on which to make a stand."
